STUDENT VOICE AT 'THE HOME OF THE KNIGHTS'

Volume 22 | Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, November 10, 1956 | Number 10

Dr. VanderWerf, VIP In Chemistry, Here Next Week

Dr. Calvin A. VanderWerf, University of Kansas, acclaimed one of the outstanding chemists in the United States, will be on campus next week to address the joint meeting of the Wartburg College American Chemical Society, student affiliate, and the Science Club.

He will speak at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Centennial Hall lounge. On Thursday he will address convocation and appear before the chemistry classes.

Receiving his bachelor's degree from Hope College and his Ph. D. from Ohio State University, he has served as secretary and chairman of the Division of Chemical Education, American Chemical Society, and has held many offices in the Kansas City Section of the ACS.

Dr. VanderWerf is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Chemical Education and is co-author of two textbooks of general chemistry.

Pre-Meds Busy; Slate Talk, Trip

Wartburg pre-medical students have a full week coming up.

Sidney Curtis, former Wartburger and presently a medical student at the State University of Iowa in his junior year, will speak at the Tri-Beta meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in room 309. All pre-med students are invited to attend.

On Friday, another important date for pre-med students, Dr. A. W. Swensen, Dr. Elmer Hertel and the pre-med students will attend the annual pre-med conference at Iowa City. Students will be shown the College of Medicine and briefed on the study of medicine. The conference also includes a separate meeting for advisers.

Drive Net Up; Student Aim $4,000

Waverly Campaign At Midway Mark

Contributions from local businessmen and citizens pushed the Waverly Development Drive over the $38,000 mark as the two-week campaign reached the midway mark yesterday.

Hagemann Chairman

The drive, headed by Waverly attorney Harry Hagemonn, got under way on Friday, Nov. 2, and will be concluded next Friday. A previous community drive for Wartburg campus expansion, conducted in 1944-45, netted about $100,000.

During the week solicitors from the college and the city have been contacting Waverly business and citizens.

Baetka

"I feel sure that Waverly will support the campaign and will reach the goal," solicitor Carl Hagemann commented. "The people of Wavecly realize the importance of Wartburg College to the community."

List Solicitors

Wartburg faculty and Student Body are conducting campaigns in conjunction with the larger effort. The Rev. August Baetke is chairman of the faculty soliciting committee, and Bob Mattheis heads the Student Body drive.

Students Register For Annual Fall Senior Day

Gillette Here Veterans Day

Journalists Cover Press Convention

Four Wartburg College students are attending the 32nd international convention of the Associated Collegiate Press ending this evening at the Hotel Statler in Cleveland, Ohio.

Attending the confab, which began Thursday are Hacold Kurtz, managing editor of the TRUMPET; Fred Weibmueller, TRUMPET business manager; Wayne Krueger, photographer; and Larry Everett, associate editor of the FORTRESS.

Veterans Day 1956 will be honored during a special convocation Monday with Guy M. Gillette, former Iowa Senator, as featured speaker.

Elected to the United States Congress in 1932, he served four years in the House of Representatives and fourteen in the Senate.

Foreign Affairs Committee

Gillette, a native of Iowa, was a member of the Foreign Affairs Committees of both the House and Senate while in Congress. He also served on the group that drafted the United Nations Charter.

In 1953, Gillette, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and both World Wars, was sent by the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs to visit eight countries of the Near East where he concerned himself with Near East dangers from Communist infiltration.

The Wartburg Band will play several selections at the Convocation, and the Waverly Air Base will provide the color guard. Students of Waverly High School have also been invited to attend this convocation.

Convo Date Changed

During the regular convocation hour, 10 a.m. Tuesday, the 10 a.m. Monday classes will meet because of the Veterans Day observance.

Speaking at Thursday's convocation will be Dr. Calvin A. Vanderwerf of the University of Kansas, who will be on campus as part of the Science Club programs being held on Wednesday and Thursday.

Students' Drive To Furnish Dorms

Wartburg Student Body pledged this week to add $4,000 to the Waverlly Development Drive. The 1956 Student Body Project, in conjunction with the drive this year, will seek to provide furnishings for the lounges in the new Centennial Hall wing and the projected men's dormitory.

Report on Senate action was presented at Thursday's Student Body Meeting by Robert Mattheis, chairman of the project committee. The report concerning the project was presented for extra assurance, since it had been approved at the previous Student Body meeting and at the Senate meeting Monday night.

Possibilities Considered

Matthais

"When selecting this project, we considered several possibilities. One was a cyclorama for the Knights Gym stage, which would include lights, a backdrop and other equipment necessary for a first-class stage," said Mattheis. "Another consideration was landscaping the block between Luther Hall and the Knights Gym."

"We chose our present project," Mattheis continued, "because it is more directly associated with the building program and because more students would derive a direct benefit from it. Such a project also makes it possible to have appropriate plaques placed in the lounges showing what the Student Body did in 1956."

This year's method of solicitation will be a pledge system, since the project comes during the Homecoming, Thanksgiving, Christmas season.

"This is your project. Only your co-operation can make it a real success," concluded Mattheis.

Wartburg In NSA

Student Body President Don Altmann, senior, announced the Senate's decision to join the National Student Association, which, among other possibilities, can aid students in foreign travel and make use of the information service, to be found in the Philadelphia headquarters, concerning student government.

A "purchase card system," which would allow students to receive discounts from Waverly merchants, was brought up as a project backed by NSA.

Plans for a new method of collecting trays and dinnerware following eating in the Cafeteria was presented and went into effect Thursday evening.

Wartburg, Waverly Prosper Together; College Spends Million A Year In City

By Marsha Arhart

Wartburg College and Waverly — both are growing and helping each other to prosper. Since 1935 when the "college on wheels" ceased wandering, Wartburg has played a role in Waverly life.

Figures reveal that the combined total of students, student wives and children, faculty and administration employees and their families is approximately 1,000 persons or nearly one-fifth of Waverly's population. Enrollment at Wartburg reached an all-time high this year and is expected to continue to be one of the Midwest's fastest growing colleges.

Asset Or Liability?

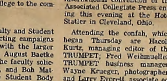
"There was a time in the history of Wartburg College when it was questionable whether Wartburg was an asset or liability to the Waverly community," stated Dr. C. H. Becker, president of the college. "I am confident that this is no longer a question in the minds of the citizens of Waverly."

He continued by explaining that the average Wartburg student spends about $170 in Waverly during the school year for clothing, food, entertainment, transportation and supplies.

A study made by H. C. Engelbrecht, assistant to the president and college business manager, indicates that an estimated $1,000,000 is spent by the college and college personnel during one year in Waverly.

They've got a million of 'em!" Wartburg College and students like freshman Wanda Carstan and senior Jo Dattmann pass $1,000,000 over Waverly counters each year.

College officials estimate that the average student spends about $170 during the school year.



Budget Boosts Total

Included in the surprising million-dollar expenditure is about 85 per cent of the college's budget, money spent by unmarried students, living expenses for married students, faculty and their families.

Also playing a part in the Waverly economic life are the local students who are attending Wartburg. No less than $36,000 per year would go outside the city if they were to attend another college.

The college maintains 67 families and 23 individuals on its payroll who otherwise would not be living in the city. The payroll for these people amounted to $326,884 last year.

Many thousands of visitors are attracted to the city each year because of Homecoming, senior days, athletic events, commencement, conventions and other reasons. One of the biggest attractions is the Artist Series, which strives to broaden the aesthetic horizons and satisfy the appreciation of the finer things in life of both the college and the city.

"We of Wartburg College want to help enrich the social, religious and cultural life of Waverly," Dr. Becker expressed. "I can state without reservation that all of us connected with Wartburg are grateful for what Waverly means to the college. In turn, we are determined to do all we can to help build an ever better community."

ALC Convention Panel At Meeting Tomorrow

Following the Chi Rho business meeting tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the Little Theater, a panel of representatives from the recent American Lutheran Church convention at Blue Island, Ill., will discuss the meeting held there.

Members of the panel will be the Rev. Melvin Bucka, Waverly Children's Home; the Rev. August Baetke, member of the Wartburg Sociology Department; Dr. William Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's, Waverly; and Dr. C. H. Becker, president of Wartburg College.

Grade Day A-Comin'

Midsemester grades will be out Tuesday. Freshmen may get their grades from their counselors by Tuesday. Upperclassman may pick up their grades from the dean of students' office, Tuesday.

GUEST EDITORIAL

'It's All Yours' – SB Project

Student Body Project drive for this school year is about to get under way. On Thursday the Student Body voted unanimously to accept the goal, the specific purpose of the money and the method of solicitation.

Therefore, in order that you may better understand and support your project, I would like to take this opportunity to explain some of the governmental procedure involved and also some of the pertinent issues involved as to why this particular project was presented to you for consideration.

The procedure used in connection with the Student Body Project was simply this: The Wartburg Development Association asked the Senate, and ultimately the Student Body, to support its program for this year. After due consideration, the Senate voted to "recommend to the Student Body that this drive be adopted as the Student Body Project for this year."

The Student Body accepted it, with the opinion that a specific purpose for the money be established rather than to dump the money into a general development fund that is expected to reach $1,600,000 Mattheis as chairman, to work out details and report back to the Senate. The Sen- in three years.

Then a committee was set up, with Bob ate approved the details and presented them to the Student Body for consideration. Because you approved, the following paragraphs concern the details of the project:

The Student Body Project Committee and the Senate agreed to present to the Student Body the specific project of furnishing the women's and men's lounges because: It would include benefits for both men and women. It would be a project with tangible results. It would be in conjunction with the development program of Wartburg College, which the Student Body voted to support this year.

Why have a $4,000 goal? After research was completed, it was estimated that approximately $4,000 could adequately furnish these two lounges. To achieve this goal, a few sacrifices may be necessary! But I am confident that these sacrifices will be made, for I believe that all of us would like to see Wartburg expand and develop in such a way that more may learn and lead and serve.

Why use the pledge system? The pledge system is designed to make giving easier for you because: The choir is gone on tour. The financial effects of Homecoming are still somewhat present. There is the expense of transportation home for Thanksgiving. There is expense for Christmas gifts and again transportation home.

Thus, it was thought that by extending the "giving" period until the end of February, you would find it easier to better support your Student Body Project.

In conclusion, I want to point out again that Student Government is effective only in so far as it meets your needs and has your support.

We Democrats have one consolation, at least. There's a vague possibillity that we can dust off our "Adlai" huttons in another four years and use them again. But you Republicans might as well throw your "I Like Ike" buttons away. All right, I said "vague," didn't I?

Tha height of negative attitudas about tha alaction cama from my roommata, who rushed home on Nov. 6 yalling, "Hah, I just nullified your vota."

At any rate, there is one set of returns that makes me happy. Johnnie Ray's "Cryin' in the Rain" has just replaced Elvis Presley's "Love Me Tender" as the top selling phonograph record in the nation.

John Polis came up with a contribution for the Department of Useless and Irrlevant Statistics. Did you know that there is a grand total of 21 cities in the United States called Waverly?

☐ ☐ ☐

Two sure signs that the favorite season of the year is drawing near: snow in Waverly last Wednesday, and the Sears and Roebuck Christmas catalog has been out three weeks now.

Fall Senior Day: That's the day whan Wartburg men start window shopping for thosa high school girls who aran't going to go to Wartburg anyway.

And it's a sure het that some bigh school fellow is going to walk up to a college student and ask why the "A" on the Knights Gymnasium sign is higger than all the rest of the letters. That was the first question I asked as a freshman. Say, does anyhody know why the "A" is bigger?

☐ ☐ ☐

I'll bet if the Student Body were asked if they knew the second verse to the Warthurg fight song, 90 per cent would say, "There's a second verse?" I just found out myself that there is. It goes like this:

For another goal they go,
This gallant team we know. (You fight!)
We'll cheer them all the way
On this, our victory day.
For Wartburg has the team
That's really on the beam. (You fight!)
Fight on, you Warthurg Knights!
Keep fighting with all your might.

WHAT IN THE WORLD

Hungarians Cry For Aid

By Don Obardorfar

A few weeks ago, we of the Western world were fairly sure that the revolling communist countries of Poland and Hungary would accomplish their goals and rid themselves of the dreaded pestilence from Russia.

Obardorfar

Poland, under proper leadership and with effective instruments to fulfill their desires, fought the Russians to a comparative standstill and managed to gain partial freedom from Russian Red-domination.

While the eyes of the West kept flicking back and forth from Egypt and our own national elections to the plight of the dominated countries of Europe, Hungary suddenly sprang into life. Students revolted, carrying with them the sympathies of large numbers of Hungarian people and the Hungarian army.

After having drivan tha Russians out of Budapest, tha Hungarians felt partially assurad of a victory. Suddanly, whila tha attention of tha world was focusad alsewhare, tha big baar again movad, this time crushing the defanseless people of its former satallite—Hungary.

Fierce fighting dominated the scene. Men, women and children all fought to preserve the newly gained freedom. What could sticks and stones do against tanks and jet planes? One American reporter, among the last of the Americans to leave the doomed city of Budapest, told of thousands of Hungarian patriots who thronged the Americans and wept. Among their last requests were the pleas for arms and help from the West.

What implications does all this carry for tha free world? Only this — wa somahow hava missad an opportunity to braak tha haavy yoka of opprassion of tha Russian Communist. Wa hava turnad unhaaring aars to tha plaas of a struggling country, just so that wa might uphald an agraament that axists only in word.

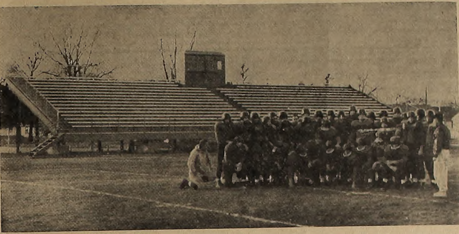
Team Home In New Stadium; Dedication At Half



Chellevold To Be MC

New stadium facilities for 960 fans will be dedicated at the game this afternoon with Dr. J. O. Chellevold, dean of faculty, in charge.

Following brief remarks by Herb Engelbrecht, college business manager, and coaches Ax Bungaard and Norm Johansen, President C. H. Becker will speak.

The new stadium, originally scheduled for construction earlier but delayed because of a prolonged steel strike, will have additional sections erected as funds become available, according to Norm Fintel, college public relations director.

The Wartburg Band, Ernest Hagen, conductor, will open and close the ceremonies.

A four-foot walk-way runs in front of the first tier of seats. A neon scoreboard has been erected at the south end of Knights' Field. Prior to the arrival of the stadium, Wartburg played its football games at Waverly's Municipal Field.

The stadium is the first of several sections to be erected as funds become available, according to Norm Fintel, college public relations director.

Highly Touted Norse Team Meets Jo-Men At 1:30

By Bill Melvin

Traditional foe Luther provides the opposition at the dedication of the Knights Stadium this afternoon.

Looking at Luther's season record, Coach Norman Johansen said, "Luther players have been bothered by injuries all season, but they are in good shape now."

Jo Eyes Injuries

Johansen added that his own squad is the one bobbled by injuries at the present time. Veteran tackle Al Limberg is out for the rest of the season, and freshman quarterback Jack McClelland is listed as doubtful for the remaining two games.

Margheim

Art Margheim has been held out of contact work most of the week, but Johansen has listed him as the probable starter at quarterback in today's contest. Margheim is recovering from a rib injury suffered against Central two weeks ago and aggravated in the early minutes of the Simpson game.

Luther brings a 3-3-1 record to Waverly. Despite a crop of 27 lettermen from last year's unbeaten team, the Norse have not been overly impressive this season.

Norse Nick Three

Norsemen hold conference victories over Simpson, Upper Iowa and Buena Vista, but have been beaten by Central and Parsons and tied by Dubuque. Loras also humiliated Luther 29-14 in a non-conference battle.

Don Nesheim, a Little All-America halfback last season, sparks the Luther attack, while 240-pound Bruce Hartman is a defensive standout for the Norse.

Dutch Close On Crown

Central moved a notch closer to the Iowa Conference crown last week by winning its sixth straight as the Dutchmen downed Iowa Wesleyan 27-0. Upper Iowa moved up by beating Parsons 34-26. The win pushed Upper Iowa from the conference cellar for the first time this season.

Following are last week's results and other Iowa Conference action:

Luther 19, Buena Vista 14
Simpson 31, Wartburg 6
Upper Iowa 34, Parsons 26

Volleyball Takes IM Spot

Volleyball takes over as the spotlight sport this week in the Wartburg intramural program. Opening round contests were completed on Thursday night.

The volleyball league, directed by Bill Bomhoff and Al Bahlmann, has an eight-team roster, with games to be played every Monday and Thursday night.

Bomhoff

In opening action, Don Graf's squad downed Vollmer House 37-21, while Larson-Wuebbens overpowered Larry Stumme's outfit 42-17. Fred Jaspers' team on top of Alpha House 41-13, and North Hall took a 31-23 decision from the Vets.

Wednesday night's bowling activity saw John Chezik rolling the high series with a 554. High game was rolled by Mel Nass, with the high team series going to the faculty squad with a 2,762 total.

The faculty squad replaced Fred Jasper's team on top of the league by winning four games while Jaspers' lost four.

Knights Shattered 31-6 By Simpson

Injury-riddled Wartburg failed to win for the 11th straight time Saturday at Indianola as Simpson downed the Knights, 31-6.

Collapsing under relentless Simpsoa pressure and the results of their own mistakes, the Knights were unable to move in the second half, and the Redmen added three touchdowns.

6-Foot, 1-Inch Pooka On LT Boards

By Jim Roever
News Editor

"A charming evening of good, warm entertainment," said Director Charles Dickson as he described the forthcoming production "Harvey," first Speech Department play of the season, to be held in the Little Theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Eccentric Elwood P. Dowd, played by sophomore Louis Becker, shares living quarters with his lovable, kind, but old-fashioned sister, Veta Louise Simmons, portrayed by Kathryn Koob, freshman, and his niece, Myrtle Mae Simmons, played by Melha Neumann, freshman.

A fourth party, a six-foot one and one-half inch Pooka, named Harvey, bosom companion of Elwood, is the basis for the entire play.

Biggest Ever

"He's the biggest, most stupendous, most lovable character we've ever had appear on our stage," said Dickson.

The plot revolves around Elwood's commitment to Chumley's Rest Home, where instead, Veta Louise is entered as a patient. Dr. Chumley, portrayed by Don Oberdorfer, senior, is strictly a professional man in contrast to the personal interest shown in people by Elwood. To Chumley everybody is a case history.

The humorous, and many times heart-warming, incidents at the rest home also involve Dr. Sanderson and Wilson, portrayed by juniors Bill Melvin and Jon Tehven; Judge Gaffney, enacted by junior Ron Korfmacher; and the nurse, with freshman Diane Gilbert filling that role.

Bauer, Feldmann Cast

The part of Betty Chumley, wife of Dr. Chumley, is taken by Eleanor Bauer, freshman, while Irmgard Feldmann, freshman, is cast as Mrs. Chauvenet. E. J. Lofgren is portrayed by Charles Bichel, senior.

The traditional First-Nighter will be held on Thursday evening, with women requested to wear formals and men business suits. Coffee will be served following the performance, and members of the audience will have the opportunity to mingle with the cast and crews and look over the theater plant if they desire.

"Although a good social opportunity, this is not necessarily a date affair," said Dickson as he urged everyone to attend.

'Not For Realists'

"Many people in the audience will never be able to see the leading character because they are realists, but the ones who sit back and enter the world of fantasy will, by the end of the play, actually see Harvey," stated Dickson.

An unforgettable character, Harvey is best understood from this explanation by Elwood: "Harvey says that he can look at your clock and stop it, and you can go away, as long as you like—with whomever you like—as far as you like, and when you come back, not one minute will have ticked by."

"HE THOUGHT he saw a bunny rabbit . . . " but his friends wonder.

Piano-Vocal Recital In Fine Arts Center On Tuesday Evening

A vocal and piano recital, featuring students of Miss Jean Abramson and C. Robert Larson, to be held Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center, will open with a Haydn composition, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," performed by Meredith Stuhmer, freshman.

Freshmen Grayce Pumfrey and Keo Miller will follow with "O Rest in the Lord" by Mendelssohn and "The Cry of Rachel" by Halter. Two piano numbers, "Tarantella" and "Warriors Song," will feature Harold Schlesinger, sophomore, and Anne von Fiseber, junior.

Freshmen Patricia Keller, Charlene Linderwell and Karen Jo Nagen will play as solos Grieg's "Elegie, Op. 38, No. 6," Mendelssohn's "Tarantella" and Clementi's "Sonatina in D, Op. 38, No. 6." Sophomore Duane Anunson will present "Reverie" by Debussy.

Concluding the program will be Patricia Waters, freshman, wth "Prelude in D-Flat" and "Prelude in C" by Chopin.

Waterfowl Discussed

James Sieh, the state waterfowl biologist, spoke at a Conservation Club meeting Wednesday night in Grossmann Hall lounge. Sieh spoke on the flyways of migratory birds, how they are set up and how carried out in the United States. A film was shown on the subject.

Red Sea Program To Open Series Tomorrow Eve.

"Secrets of the Underwater World — the Red Sea," first of Wartburg's specialty series, will be the film-lecture presented tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium. The film is narrated by French underwater expert Dimitri Rebikoff, who filmed the undersea color movie. Student admission will be 50 cents.

Dr. A. W. Swensen, chairman of the committee in charge, described the film as "terrific, fabulous and one presentation students definitely should not miss."

Dr. Swensen further commented upon the timeliness of the topic in view of the recent trouble in the Suez Canal.

Dr. L. G. Carr of the Wartburg Biology Department pointed out that "biological and botany students, should be especially interested in the presentation, since it unlocks many of the colors, marvels and mysteries of the underwater world."

Fine Arts Center Features Exhibit 'Art in Watercolor'

A 20-picture exhibit of watercolor paintings composes the present art exhibition in the Fine Arts Center here. The exhibit will be on campus through Nov. 20.

According to Miss Helen Wright, head of the Art Department, two artists, Miss Lucy Doane, Rutland, Vt., and May Clinedont, St. Petersburg, Fla., are represented in the collection.

Miss Doane is supervisor of art in the Rutland public schools; she has written 13 books and has received numerous awards.
